• During World War II, you had to have food stamps to buy meat, Grandma & Grandpa were friends of John Fischer who owned a meat market. Often there was extra meat that no one had food stamps for so he couldn't sell it, so he would give to Grandma, she would sell it under the table to the the Odd Fellows lodge which Grandma belonged to, then Grandma would give back money to Fisher. . Grandma NEVER made leftovers!

- Grandma and Grandpa got married then Grandpa signed up cause they were going to draft him. Irene was 3 years old when he came home. (Gone for 3 years).

From Harold:

Every Sunday would go on a picnic when living in Buffalo. Grandma would get up at 3am, make potato salad and picnic food. All kids would pack mits and such and climb into car Packard and go to some park like Medina, silver creek.

Would hide away money to buy kids something new instead of handmedowns.

On way home from Kirchovers on Sat nite she would stop at Quality baker and buy donuts. Kids would wait for her and sit around eating donuts and coffee.

Gram never let anyone see her without makeup and earrings.

Kids had oatmeal for breakfast. Grandma always used Elizabeth Arden Makeup. Was cub scout mother for Marty.
